Donna Jennings to Serve as Moderator at Webinar “Dealing with County Planning Boards”

06/20/17

Donna Jennings will moderate NJSBA's webinar entitled “Dealing with County Planning Boards,” which will provide an overview of the importance of county and regional planning boards, what matters they typically handle, and how they fit into the overall scheme of planning and zoning.

While land use matters in New Jersey are typically decided at the municipal level, county and regional planning boards also play an important role in planning, mapping, and approving subdivisions as well as the implementation of state and federal regulations.
