Please join us Wednesday, June 24, 2020, 12-1pm as we discuss Returning to the Workplace During COVID-19

As countries, states, and cities begin to lift restrictions, and businesses slowly open their doors, the time to plan for what will be the new normal in the workplace is now.

We will help you jumpstart your plans as you prepare your technology, human resource and financial aspects for the return to the workplace. Our goal is to help you understand the current state of each and make tweaks to ensure your employees have what they need to do their jobs effectively.

Everyone's situation is unique but evaluating your plan with these components in mind can help you get organized and anticipate obstacles.
