Construction Contracts During And Post-Pandemic: It's No Time For A "Jersey Contract" - Part One

02/12/21

The first part of a two-part series written by Dan Kluska and Don Taylor for New Jersey Builders Association Dimensions Magazine Winter 2021 Edition, "Construction Contracts During And Post-Pandemic: It's No Time For A "Jersey Contract" - Part One" discusses the unique challenges the COVID-19 pandemic has introduced to construction businesses and uncertainty into the respective responsibilities of parties involved in a construction project. Owners, designers and contractors should consider a few provisions in contracting during and post-pandemic, including specific scope of work and force majeure provisions.
