Easements: Use Them or Lose Them!

03/25/26

Shareholder and Co-chair of the Land Use team, Donna M. Jennings, and Luke A. Policastro, Associate on the Land Use team at Wilentz, Goldman & Spitzer, P.A., highlight the importance of understanding and actively preserving easement rights in land use and real estate development. Easements, such as those for access, parking, or drainage, can be lost over time if a property owner or beneficiary demonstrates intent to abandon them through clear actions or prolonged inaction.
