

Tax Exempt Lending

Wilentz represents lenders, such as banks and other financial institutions and borrowers, in tax-exempt financing transactions involving small manufacturers and a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt entities. We have in-depth experience in dealing with the public policy and tax issues mandated by the respective Public Entities involved in the transaction and the business issues important to the lenders and borrowers involved. Our experience includes representing our clients in transactions secured by a variety of collateral, including all types of personal and real property.
