

Health Law: M&A/Transactional

M&A/Transactional services for the healthcare segment require a specific skillset, which our attorneys have honed through many years of experience in this field. The Health Law attorneys at Wilentz represent hospitals, surgery centers, and physician groups of all sizes and specialties with respect to all their corporate and transactional requirements, including mergers, acquisitions, and affiliations, drafting organizational documents (stockholders agreements and other governing documents), employment agreements, and facility leases.

We work with healthcare professionals and hospitals to create mutually beneficial joint ventures, which often include analysis of regulatory concerns, as well as the negotiation and preparation of documentation evidencing both the transaction and the ongoing relationships between the parties.
