

Guidance for Employers Concerning Control and Prevention of Coronavirus in the Workplace Issued by Occupational Safety and Health Administration

04/07/20

As the coronavirus pandemic continues to impact many small businesses in New Jersey and throughout the United States, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has published interim guidance for employers on measures they may take to prevent worker exposure to the coronavirus (COVID-19) in the workplace. The guidance can be accessed here.

If you are an employer with concerns about preventing worker exposure to coronavirus, or any other COVID-19 related employment concern, please contact Tracy Armstrong or any other member of the Wilentz Employment Law Team.
