Jason A. Cherchia is Counsel on the Land Use practice group at Wilentz, Goldman & Spitzer, P.A. He focuses his practice on development applications, planning board and zoning board hearings, Right to Farm Act applications, and a wide variety of land use litigation. Jason also has extensive experience before the Tax Court of New Jersey litigating property tax appeals on behalf of property owners.

Prior to joining Wilentz, Jason gained extensive experience in private practice; he litigated real estate tax appeals, and advised clients on land use variances, property development, formation of business entities, and estate planning.

Earlier in his career, Jason also represented municipal clients in a wide range of legal issues before the Tax Court and Superior Court of New Jersey. He served as a law clerk for The Honorable Joseph M. Andresini, Presiding Judge of the Tax Court of New Jersey.

Jason earned his law degree from Seton Hall University School of Law, his LL.M. in Taxation from New York University School of Law, and his B.A. from The George Washington University.
